

Explaining Cancer To Children

The following websites offer resources to help and support children as they process a cancer diagnosis.

Scan the codes to visit the websites.

Wonders & Worries

<https://www.wondersandworries.org>

Resources on talking about cancer, illness, when treatment is not working, anticipatory death and bereavement

Bright Spot Network

<https://www.brightspotnetwork.org>

Multiple resources and programs to help support your children through your diagnosis.

American Cancer Society

<https://www.cancer.org/cancer/caregivers/helping-children-when-a-family-member-has-cancer.html>

These pages offer information on helping children, from infants to teens, understand and cope when someone they love has cancer.

Pickles

<https://www.picklesgroup.org/>

Having a parent with cancer can be a lonely, isolating experience. Pickles Group creates thriving communities of kids supporting kids through and beyond their parent's cancer journeys. Pickles kids strengthen resilience, have fun with friends who get them, and heal along the way.

Help with Hope

<https://www.helpwithhope.org>

Help with Hope's goal is to support every child whose parent has been affected by cancer with compassion and understanding. This is accomplished through online support groups and care packages (containing a fluffy, comforting stuffed animal, journal or coloring book and a book on coping with their parent's cancer).
